

Dr Medhat Lamfon is one of the first scientists who had a carrier in infection control in the kingdom, Dr Medha Lamfon is one of the first groups of professionals who were selected in Makah Region Quality Program (MRQP) as Standard Implementation Instructors and he was consequently selected to be a member of the first group of surveyors in Infection Control for the Central Board of Accreditation for Healthcare Institutions (CBAHI) who were certified and trained by Accreditation Canada, He started his carrier in the field in Riyadh at King Faisal Specialist Hospital & Research Center. Soon after ,Dr .Lamfon was able to pass the American Board of Infection Control & Epidemiology exam and become certified in infection control (CIC) as the first Saudi national non Physician obtains this board and He was recertified twice subsequently five years apart.

Dr .Lamfon continued his interest from his practical experience in the clinical field and he was able to obtain a master degree in medical microbiology from King Abdulaziz University and PHD in infection control and epidemiology by Oxford educational network ,IUFS, His success was appreciated by his leaders and he was appointed as a chairman of the JCI subcommittee during the ongoing monitoring of the Joint Commission International Program.

Dr .Lamfon then continued his experience and knowledge by joining the Oxford Educational Network learning scheme and awarded a doctor of philosophy in Infection control & Epidemiology .Dr .Lamfon actively involved in teaching and training through conferences, seminars and educational workshops across the kingdom for both governmental and private sectors .Dr .Lamfon current job is senior infection control coordinator in the National Guard Hospital Jeddah.

=

